

(IO)2 Seminar schedule, Fall 2020

Organizers: John Asker, Myrto Kalouptsi, Fernando Luco

The Interactive Online IO seminar—aka (IO)2—will meet once a week over Zoom this Fall, on Tuesdays 3-4pm ET. The schedule is below. The seminar is open to everyone except Zoombombers, so feel free to share and advertise with faculty, students, and any other interested parties.

The vast majority of the seminars are recorded by the speakers. Interested participants can contact the speakers directly to obtain access to the recording.

We will use this page for any future seminar announcements or to address any technical issues, so bookmark and refresh this page. If you must e-mail, contact John Asker.

This Fall, (IO)2 will meet for 75 minutes, but every other week, from September 8 through December 1. The full lineup is below and a new zoom registration link will be added to this file soon.

- 9/8 Ben Klopach (Texas A&M University): “One Size Fits All? The Value of Standardized Retail Chains.”
- 9/22 Ali Hortaçsu (University of Chicago): “Random-Coefficients Logit Demand Estimation with Zero-Valued Market Shares,” with Jean-Pierre Dubé and Joonhwi Joo.
- 10/6 Katalin Springel (Georgetown University): “Pass-Through and Welfare Effects of Regulations That Affect Product Attributes,” with Benjamin Leard and Joshua Linn.
- 10/20 El Hadi Caoui (University of Toronto): “A Study of Umbrella Damages from Bid-Rigging.”
- 11/3 Chris Sullivan (University of Wisconsin - Madison): “Testing Firm Conduct,” with Lorenzo Magnolfi.
- 11/17 Marleen Marra (Sciences Po): TBD.
- 12/1 Ariel Pakes (Harvard University): “Unobserved Heterogeneity, State Dependence, and Health Plan Choices.”